Abstract: [200 words, including the motivation of the Special Session]

In the last decade a large number of multimedia forensic and security techniques have been proposed to evaluate integrity of multimedia data. However, most of these solutions adopt very limiting and simplifying working conditions, being more appropriate for laboratorial tests than for real-world deployment. Unfortunately, with big data requirements on the table, the stakes are higher now. Forensics and security experts are no longer required to provide the society with solutions for specific cases. Instead, we need to cope with shear amounts of data and in different operational and acquisition conditions

Topics of Interest: [Highlighting the novelty of the topic and any possible interdisciplinary flavor]

- Internet of Things
- Industrial Internet of Things
- Cyber Physical Systems
- Artificial Intelligence
- Autonomous Transport
- Imaging
- Video Summarization
- Cryptography &
Steganography
- Network Security

Paper Submission Process:

Please submit your paper (in word/pdf format) at email: your email ID, with Name of Special Session mentioned in the subject line.
