Abstract:

The theme of this Special Track will focus on the new phase in the largest industry sectors are using these converged technologies for their Intelligent Engineering Applications for Societal Development. Intelligent engineering applications concerns the design and implementation of embedded technologies for products, processes and supply chains, and product and process design for embedded intelligence to collect and process data from a variety of sources, provide experiences in real time, and make use of the latest techniques in machine learning and artificial intelligence to push their usefulness and well as their consequences for the design, use and acceptance of future Societal systems. Intelligent Engineering Applications have the power to transform businesses, drive new revenue, deepen customer engagement, and optimize operations. This Special Track aims to bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and research scholars to exchange and share their experiences and research results on all aspects of Intelligent Engineering Applications for Societal Development. We would like to invite the authors to submit their research on Intelligent Engineering Applications for Societal Development. The Special Track will focus on a wide range of topics in Intelligent Engineering is a multidisciplinary domain which Applications can be found in different societal domains.
